

The University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee

P.O. Box 413, Milwaukee, Wisconsin 53201 Area Code 414: 963-4141

January 26, 1977

center for twentieth century studies of the college of letters and science

Professor B. Woody Vasulka
257 Franklin Street
Buffalo, New York 14202

Dear Woody:

With our Film/Theatre/Video Conference only three weeks away, I'd like to reiterate how delighted we all are about your participation and to confirm the terms of our agreement.

The Center under a grant from NEA will reimburse your travel (air-coach roundtrip) and will offer you a fee of $100 in lieu of expenses for the three day event. Please make sure we have your airline receipt, so we can reimburse you, also your social security number and home address.

Your roles have been outlined in previous correspondence. If not, this is what we expect of workshop leaders: a presentation backed by a rather detailed outline distributed at the workshop, and after the Conference a fully written paper which may be considered by May 1 for inclusion in a manuscript the Center intends to propose to publishers and journal editors. During the Conference there is a new feature on the program, a daily roundtable wherein all the speakers of the day will take a hard look about what's been accomplished and what needs further research, discussion, definition and refinement. This will be a time for audience participation, questioning of speakers and artists, in short a chance to pull things together in a collective way.

I believe Mrs. Janet Purdy has been in touch with you concerning your housing in Milwaukee. I am personally looking forward to the pleasure of seeing you again here.

Cordially,

Michel Benamou
Director

MB/ma

Please invite colleagues and students to attend this conference - They are warmly invited.